

Institute, Next Thursday Evening, at 8 O'clock p. m. THEME---POETRY AND PEARLS. Come!

General Sherman

Said he knew only two tunes—"Yankee Doodle" and one other. Our customers are in the same fix. They have heard of other firms, but they remember only Who are continually dispensing big Bargains to the people of Ohio county.

Men's Summer Coats.....	50c to $3.50
Boy's Linen Pants.....	25c
Men's Linen Suits.....	$2.00 to $3.00
Blue Serge Coat and Vest.....	3.00 to 3.50
Men's Gauze Underwear.....	25c
Genuine Balbriggan Suits.....	1.00
Tow Linen Pants.....	1.00
Good Socks.....	5c
Fancy Half Hose.....	10c to 40c
Men's Low-cut Shoes.....	1.00
Ladies' Slippers.....	50c to 2.00
Lap Robes.....	50c
Parasols—all colors.....	50c to 3.50
Pretty Line Fans.....	5c to 75c
White Goods in Plain and Figured.....	5c to 24c
Fancy Wash Goods.....	5c, 8c, 10c and 20c
Hamburg and Swiss Embroideries.....	10c to 30c
Torchon Edgings and Insertions.....	10c
Genuine Val. Laces.....	10c to 15c
Thread Edges and Insertions.....	2c to 10c
Swiss all-over, Lace all-over.....	25c to 75c
Lace stripe Hose.....	15c to 25c
Child's Fancy Hose.....	10c 15c and 20c
Black Cat Hose.....	10c to 25c
Ladies' 10c Vest, taped neck.....	74c
Genuine Lisle Thread Vest.....	25c
Entire line 75c Shirts.....	50c
Big size Counterpane.....	50c
One dollar a yard Skirt Goods (3 yds to skirt).....	50c
Good summer Corsets.....	50c
Good quality Kid Gloves.....	75c
Very best Kid Gloves.....	1.00
Lik Gloves—black only.....	35c
Black Silk Mitts.....	15c to 25c
Child's Parasols.....	15c
Men's Good Work Gloves.....	50c

BIG REDUCTION IN MILLINERY GOODS
THE remaining summer months we are going to make interesting by making SPECIAL PRICES in every department. Remember, we take CASH, Wool, Eggs, Ginseng and Feathers in exchange for all kinds of Dry Goods.

The Place is: Fair and Co.
THE FAIR DEALERS

Hartford Republican.

FRIDAY, JULY 19

Illinois Central Railroad--Time Table.

North Bound.	South Bound.
No. 122 dep. 4:40 a. m.	No. 121 dep. 11:15 a. m.
No. 122 dep. 7:10 p. m.	No. 121 dep. 7:30 p. m.
No. 122 dep. 12:20 p. m.	No. 121 dep. 12:30 p. m.

PISO'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION
Cures Cough, Spits, Phlegm, Hoarseness, etc. Sold by druggists.

Delicious Coca Cola at the Singer office.
Get your Milk Shake at the Singer office.
Remember the lecture Thursday evening.
Nicest line of Cigars in town at Singer office.
Remember—Poetry and Pearls—Thursday night.
Hot Peanuts and Pop Corn always on hand at Singer office.
Ice Cream and Sherbet constantly on hand at the Singer office.
C. R. Martin, jeweler and watchmaker—at Williams' drug store.
Orange, Cherry and Blackberry phosphates at the Singer office.
Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Morrison were in Reynolds Saturday and Sunday.
Potted Turkey, Chicken, Ham Chipped Beef, etc., at Singer office.
For fine Watch, Clock or Jewelry repairing, see Letzinger, the expert.
For Oranges, Lemons and Bananas, of course you go to the Singer office.
Prof. and Mrs. A. P. Taylor, Kirkmansville, are visiting relatives in town.
Miss Margaret Marks returned from a visit to friends in Fordville, Wednesday.
Miss Sadie Austin, Greenville, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Z. Wayne Griffin.
If you want your watch fixed the same as you would get it in a city, try Letzinger.
Wagon wheels refiled, ten dollars per set.
A. B. ROWE, Centertown, Ky.
Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Renter, Morgantown, visited Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Neal Monday.

Remember the lecture Thursday evening.

School orders taken as cash for goods at Carson & Co's.

Mr. D. J. Duncan, Greenville, was in town first of the week.

Miss Mary King, Henderson, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Phipps.

Mr. Geo. T. Ryan, Schochob, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. B. D. Ringo.

Mrs. J. R. Williams, Livermore, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. R. Pirtle.

If your watch is out of order, don't fail to see Letzinger the expert watchmaker.

The lecture—the lecture—ah! the lecture. Oh! when? Next Thursday evening.

Dr. E. A. Carson has opened up a Dental office up stairs next door to Carson & Co.

Attorneys C. E. Smith and Ernest Woodward went to Rockport Saturday, on legal business.

Misses Carrie and Stella Warner went to Louisville Wednesday, to be absent some time.

The nicest and newest up-to-date line of candies in the city, can be found at the Singer office.

"Poetry and Pearls" is the beautiful theme that Hon. A. L. Taylor will delineate Thursday evening.

Misses Mamie and Ethel Plummer, near Beaver Dam, visited the Misses Miller Wednesday and Thursday.

If you have any old gold or silver that you want to keep, Letzinger can manufacture it in any way you want it.

Practical and scientific horse-shoeing—twenty years experience 45 St. A. B. ROWE, Centertown, Ky.

A good wagon and good draft horses to exchange for good milk cows or huggies. E. M. MILLER.

We will close out our Foulard Silks (at 2c) imported organdies 22 1/2c and all wash goods in proportion. Don't fail to see these goods—no last year's goods. All new, fresh stock. CARSON & CO.

DOCTORS

say "Consumption can be cured." Nature alone won't do it. It needs help. Doctors say

"Scott's Emulsion is the best help." But you must continue its use even in hot weather.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 409-415 Pearl Street, New York, and all druggists.

Mr. Owen Chinn got his arm broken in three places Tuesday while throwing the belt off the threshing machine while it was still running. The

Mrs. Wm. Toms is very sick.

Remember the lecture Thursday evening.

Go to Griffin's for Ice Cream, Sherbert and cool drinks.

Mr. G. Davis Royal, Fordville, was in town yesterday.

Miss Martina Bennett has been quite sick during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Taylor visited in Union county first of the week.

Mrs. R. R. Robertson, Edmonson county, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Oiler.

We have just received a very interesting letter from Shamrock. It will appear next week.

Miss Margaret Haynes, Junior, who has been visiting Mrs. A. C. Taylor, left Monday for her home.

Mrs. W. M. Richmond, after a pleasant visit in town, returned to her home in Calhoun Tuesday.

Teachers, remember when you come to the Institute, the place to get your cool drinks is at Griffin's drug store.

Leizinger the expert jeweler, of Evansville, Ind., is located in Greenville, Ky., will be in Hartford July 22 to 27.

Masters Thomas and Eugene Neal returned home Monday, after an extended visit to relatives in Morgan town.

Misses Lena and Rachel Bach and brother, Charles, Louisville, visited Mr. Sam Bach and family first of the week.

Mrs. Shelby Taylor and little son, Hugh Edward, Crawley, La., are visiting friends in and around Beaver Dam.

Boys, don't wait until some other fellow beats your time, find your girl and secure your tickets early—at Collins' store.

The lecture of Hon. A. L. Taylor will be grand. Its next Thursday evening. Come early or you will likely be crowded out.

Little infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. B. King, Palo, died Sunday night of whooping cough. Interment at Sunnydale Monday.

The prolonged drought has closed the tobacco factory and Mr. E. O. Cottrell, one of the managers, left for Owensboro Monday.

Mr. O. C. Cox and Miss Belle Allen were married at Centertown Tuesday.

Rev. G. H. Lawrence spoke the words that made them one.

You school teachers should have your watches put in good order to teach by. Letzinger can give you best recommendations.

Teachers, when you come to town Monday, you'd better buy your tickets for the lecture, they are going rapidly, at R. T. Collins' store.

Good morning sir: I've come over to advise you, for the last time, of the lecture next Thursday evening, will meet you there! I hope so.

If you have any rings broken or sets lost out, Letzinger can reset them or repair them same as new. Best of recommendation furnished.

During the Institute, we will have every thing the hot weather demands. Come and see.

Z. WAYNE GRIFFIN & BRO.

Mr. Alonzo Hicks, our same name, and would be "Squire, in Buford, made us a very pleasant call Monday. He is the fellow "what" Squire Masale is going to "lick."

A doctor without a diploma is not allowed to give you medicine, neither should a jeweler be allowed to fix watches without a diploma. Letzinger has two of them.

The Institute convenes Monday and of course all the teachers will be in town. We extend to each a hearty welcome and trust that the week will be one of enjoyment and profit.

C. R. Martin, the old reliable jeweler and watch and clock repairer, is now at the drug store of J. H. Williams, Hartford, where he is prepared to do any and all kinds of work in his line.

The ladies of the Baptist church will give an ice cream supper next Wednesday evening at Court Hall, in the interest of the church. Come out and enjoy yourselves and aid a good cause.

Mrs. Harriet Cook, wife of Mr. W. P. Cooks, Sannydale, died Sunday night of Cholera morbus. Her remains were buried Monday at Sunnydale after funeral services conducted by Revs. G. J. Bean and S. T. Ashbrook.

In giving the Ohio county boys mention last week, we omitted one, who graduated from the Dental College this year, Dr. J. R. Williams, who is now located at Livermore. Jim is all right and is as certain of success as he is blessed with good health.

The Republicans of Buford Magisterial District met in mass convention at Beds Saturday, July 13, 1901, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Magistrate and Constable. Great enthusiasm was displayed. Ed Masale and Lon Allen were nominated by acclamation. Everybody seemed earnest and cheerful and felt that they were marching from victory to victory again.

Mr. Owen Chinn got his arm broken in three places Tuesday while throwing the belt off the threshing machine while it was still running. The accident occurred about 11 o'clock Tuesday on the farm of John Thomas, east of town. The large belt connecting the separator and engine had been thrown from the pulley when Mr. Chinn caught up both p's of the belt and attempted to slow down the cylinder and in some way his arm was caught in a twist, his body hurled to the ground and the bone broken. Dr. Ford dressed the wound.

Mrs. Hardin Wallace, near Prentiss, committed suicide last Saturday morning by taking a quantity of carbolic acid, after much suffering and intense agony she died from the poisoned poison. She leaves a husband and six children to fight the battles of life. Her remains were buried at Manda Sunday. We were unable to learn the cause of the rash act, but are informed that she had been a little nattered at times and this may have aided her at the time when she resolved to die. We are very sorry to learn of Mr. Wallace's misfortune and extend our sympathy to the bereaved family.

Mr. W. H. Dooley, of the No Creek community, died very suddenly Sunday morning of heart trouble. When he arose Sunday morning he was in comparatively good health and went about doing his chores as usual, and later in the forenoon had been out giving his attention to his stock and on returning complained to his wife of feeling ill and said he would die down for a rest. He had only been absent in his room a short time when his wife discovered that he was breathing unusually strange, and hurrying to his room she found him unconscious and he died within a few minutes. His sudden death was doubtless due to heart trouble. His remains were buried at Mr. Hermon Monday, after funeral services by Rev. W. T. Dunn.

Notice to School Teachers.

Leizinger the expert jeweler will be in Hartford from July 22 to 27.

A Mr. Hamilton sustained a very painful accident, near Concord, yesterday. He was on the feed-table of a threshing machine, when his foot slipped into the cylinder severely tearing and horribly crushing it. Dr. E. W. Ford was called out to dress the wound. It was an accident which will make him for life.

Marriages.

W. A. Bowen, Laxme, to Miss Mattie Cates, McHenry.

James Midkiff, Sulphur Springs, to Miss Minnie Q. Allen, Narrows.

R. C. Fuqua, Hellin, to Miss Lulu Mitchell, Beds.

W. S. Shennell, Drakesboro, to Miss Civilia I. Brown, Rockport.

John W. Willis, Actonville, to Miss Nora Greer, Deaneville.

J. F. Drake, Maxwell, to Miss Bertha Ambrose, Beds.

H. H. Lindley, Livermore, to Miss Una Turner.

Chas. Wright, Beaver Dam, to Miss Cornelia Austin, Beaver Dam.

O. C. Cox, Smallhouse, to Miss Belle Allen, Centertown.

Magisterial Convention.

Rosine, Ky., July 16, 1901.

EDITOR REPUBLICAN:

The delegates of Cromwell Magisterial District met at Rosine, Mr. C. E. Raley being absent, the meeting was called to order by Tom Allen and elected B. H. Stewart, Ch'm'n, and H. C. Crowder, Sec'y. George Martin and Robert Simpson were voted for, for Magistrate; the vote stood 28 to 1 in favor of Mr. Martin.

J. R. Her and F. M. Crowder were voted for, for Constable; the vote stood 17 to 12 in favor of Her.

The Chairman appointed a committee on resolutions which reported as follows:

Resolved, 1st. We, the Republicans of Cromwell Magisterial District, do endorse the course of our worthy President.

2nd. Do pledge ourselves to lend our entire strength to aid the Republican party.

3rd. Will do all we can to overthrow Goebelism in our district.

4th. That we will lend a helping hand to the entire ticket and will do all we can to keep down strife in our ranks.

5th. That we return to our worthy ex-Governor, W. S. Taylor, our greatest sympathy in his bereavements, and hope that he will be able to overcome his trouble and will finally be permitted to return to the State without being molested by a partial court.

What among human ills are more annoying than piles? The afflictions that prevent active exercise are had enough, but one that makes even rest miserable is worse. Women are among his greatest martyrs. Tamen's Buckeye Pile Ointment will cure the most obstinate cases. Price, 5 cts. in bottles, tubes 75c. J. H. WILLIAMS.

SMALLHOUSE, KY.

July 14—Rev. Ollie Wair, Muhlenberg county, preached an excellent sermon at the Smallhouse Baptist church last Sunday to an attentive audience.

Mr. Pink sharp was in our midst Sunday.

Mrs. Mel Landrum visited relatives here several days last week.

Mr. Will Stevens, Sr., and family, of the No Creek neighborhood, and also Mr. Will Stevens, Jr., wife and babe visited their uncle, Mr. Zack Reid, last week.

Mr. T. R. Barnard, wife and little daughter, Mary, visited Mr. Barnard's mother, Mrs. Sallie Drake last Sunday.

Mr. M. D. Maddox went to Morgantown, July the 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hill, Misses

Ona Maddox, Grace Reid, Messrs Lewis and Erskine Fulkerson, Ray Addington, Chester Ross and Felix Drake spent the 4th of July in Central City.

Misses Ethel and Lella Hunter, Ethel Bullock and Mr. W. C. Overhul, went to Rockport last Tuesday.

Miss Athel Jones and cousin, Miss Ethel Hunter, visited relatives in and Utica last Tuesday and Wednesday.

Quite a number of our young folks attended the ice cream supper at Centertown last Saturday. They report a pleasant time.

The ice cream supper July 4th at Mrs. Cordelia Addington's was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Miss Athel Jones, of St. Louis, who has been visiting relatives here the past two weeks started for her home this morning. She was accompanied as far as Rockport, Ky., by her cousin, Clarence Overhul, Ethel and Lella Hunter.

Miss Maggie Hunter went to Centertown today the guest of her sister, Mrs. P. L. Wood.

Mr. Felix Drake will start Wednesday for St. Louis, Mo. He will be accompanied by Mr. Owen Robertson.

Mr. Worth Fulkerson returned home from Kansas last Sunday.

Mr. Marion Kinley lost a horse last Saturday. Mrs. Fannie Bullock, Centertown, was returning home from a visit to Mr. Kinley's and had the horse hitched to a buggy, on going down a hill near Mr. J. C. Barnett's, the horse stumbled and fell breaking his neck and killing himself instantly. There were five in the buggy, Mrs. Bullock and three children and Miss Flora Every. No one was hurt.

Mr. Ott Kinley is quite ill at this writing—has typhoid fever.

Mr. Ben Ross, who has been quite ill of flux, is about well.

Base Ball at Renter.

The Renter and Central City base ball teams crossed bats at Renter Saturday. The game was very interesting and resulted in a victory for the Renter boys. Score stood 12 to 10 in favor of Renter. Renter—Sloan pitcher, James catcher. Sloan struck out 10 for C. C., and caught fly. His for Renter, 9 two base hits, 1 three base hit and three home runs. Base 12. Put outs 27—2 by Roberts, 2 by Blackburn, 2 by Cargill, 11 by Sloan, 5 by Burton, 1 by Barras, 2 by Campbell, 1 by J. James and 1 by S. James. Assists 8, errors 5.

Central City—Garst struck out 7 of Renter's players 5 two base hits, 1 home run and 1 double play. Runs 10, stolen base 12. Put outs—Dosselt 3, Bonhomme 12, Garst, pitcher, 8, Fortney 2, Perkins 2, Pentress 2, Veech 3, Bailly 4, Nichols 1. Total 27. Assists 5, errors 12.

The game was renewed Sunday with pitchers from Louisville on both sides. The game stood 18 to 16 in favor of the Central City boys. Had the Renter boys put their own pitcher in the box they would have doubtless won outright. Sloan is a splendid pitcher and Renter should recognize this fact. Notwithstanding the fact that Central City had borrowed their team from Louisville and elsewhere, Renter gave them a splendid game.

The Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Operating exchanges and toll lines in Kentucky, Indiana, Mississippi and connected by its Long Distance line with all principal points in thirty five States and Territories, is establishing an exchange in Hartford, Beaver Dam, Renter, McHenry, Centertown and surrounding country.

They wish to make their service as comprehensive and valuable as possible and make a specialty of furnishing service to parties living in the country within a reasonable distance of the exchange.

Rates and other information may be obtained at the exchange over Williams' Drug Store, Hartford, Ky.

C. S. McCULLOUGH, Manager.

Guaranteed $900 Salary Yearly

Men and Women of good address, in reputation, come to travel and apply for positions, for local work looking after our interests. $900 salary guaranteed yearly; extra commissions and expenses; rapid advancement; old established lines. Grand chance for earnest men or women to secure pleasant, permanent position, liberal income and future. New, brilliant lines. Write at once. ALFRED PIERCE, 23 Church St., New Haven, Conn.

NEW LIVERY AND FEED STABLE.

Good Horses and the Best of Rigs at all Times.

The most polite attention given customers, and the kindest care taken of all stock intrusted. Dealer in BUGGIES and WAGONS. Will also handle the FAMOUS OX BRAND FERTILIZER.

TERMS, STRICTLY CASH.

A. C. TAYLOR, Prop'r.

(SUCCESSOR TO KROWN & TAYLOR.)

Hartford Kentucky.

Practical Aids for Teachers and Applicants.

It is a SPECIAL aid to applicants in the matter of Theory and Practice. Much emphasis has been put upon this subject in the examinations, and many an applicant otherwise qualified is defective in theory of teaching, as this is a subject that cannot be learned from a text book.

A Guide to Study in the Preparation For Teachers' Certificate.

It is not a book prepared by one ignorant of the needs of teachers and applicants, but is the result of experience of eleven years in the school work by an experienced member of the State Board of Examiners. It is not an "almanac," but a pocket encyclopedia, containing exactly the information that both teachers and applicants must have.

PRICE, $1.00. Three Copies to one Address, $2.25. Cash With Order. Books Mailed same day order is Received.

SEND ALL ORDERS TO JAS H FUQUA, JR., Russellville, Ky.

Difficult Digestion

That is dyspepsia. It makes life miserable. It suffers as not because they want to, but simply because they must. They know they are irritable and fretful; but they cannot be otherwise.

They complain of a bad taste in the mouth, a tenderness at the pit of the stomach, an uneasy feeling of puffiness, flatness, headache, heartburn and what not.

The effectual remedy, proved by permanent cures of thousands of severe cases, is

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Hood's Pills are the best cathartic.

CERALVO, KY.

Mrs. N. B. Fulkerson is visiting at May.

May, the six months old infant of Mr. L. P. Fulkerson, died the 7th of his month.

Miss Allene Renter, Paradise, is spending the summer with the family of W. H. Morris.

Messrs Butch Blackburn and Charlie Garrett returned from Evansville Friday.

Miss Athel Jones, St. Louis, Mo., visited friends and relatives here last week.

Mrs. William Byers is very sick at this writing.

Miss Minnie Wood returned from Huntsville Saturday.

Mrs. P. Jones is visiting in Hopkinsville.

Mr. James Barnes, Beaver Dam, spent Sunday here.

LOUIS

Fat lady—Don't sleep too much; exercise; don't eat fats and sweets. To reduce flesh rapidly take Rocky Mountain Tea. Acts directly on the fatty tissues. 35c. Ask your druggist.

Oil in McLean County.

Schree, Ky., July 17—Beech Grove in McLean county, is going to have an oil boom that promises to be substantial. Several years ago oil was struck in a deep water well that was being bored at Beech Grove. The well was cased up, as the value of the oil was not thought to be worth working the well. The well has now been uncased, and rapidly flowed oil to the surface.

A company has been organized here to develop this well and sink other wells in that locality, and the work will be pushed promptly.

It is believed there is abundant oil in that county and Webster, and outside interests are expected to be attracted to the field soon.

Success—Worth Knowing.

40 years success in the South proves highest. Tolerant spirit remedy for Chills and Malaria, Fever, better than Quinine and Ipecac. Cures Malaria, Biliousness, Indigestion, etc. 10c. 25c. 50c. 1.00. 1.50. 2.00. 2.50. 3.00. 3.50. 4.00. 4.50. 5.00. 5.50. 6.00. 6.50. 7.00. 7.50. 8.00. 8.50. 9.00. 9.50. 10.00. 10.50. 11.00. 11.50. 12.00. 12.50. 13.00. 13.50. 14.00. 14.50. 15.00. 15.50. 16.00. 16.50. 17.00. 17.50. 18.00. 18.50. 19.00. 19.50. 20.00. 20.50. 21.00. 21.50. 22.00. 22.50. 23.00. 23.50. 24.00. 24.50. 25.00. 25.50. 26.00. 26.50. 27.00. 27.50. 28.00. 28.50. 29.00. 29.50. 30.00. 30.50. 31.00. 31.50. 32.00. 32.50. 33.00. 33.50. 34.00. 34.50. 35.00. 35.50. 36.00. 36.50. 37.00. 37.50. 38.00. 38.50. 39.00. 39.50. 40.00. 40.50. 41.00. 41.50. 42.00. 42.50. 43.00. 43.50. 44.00. 44.50. 45.00. 45.50. 46.00. 46.50. 47.00. 47.50. 48.00. 48.50. 49.00. 49.50. 50.00. 50.50. 51.00. 51.50. 52.00. 52.50. 53.00. 53.50. 54.00. 54.50. 55.00. 55.50. 56.00. 56.50. 57.00. 5

900 DROPS

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of

Wm. D. Mitchell

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

Vegetable Preparation for Assuaging the Food and Regulating the Stomach and Bowels of Infants and Children.

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotics.

Perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and Loss of Sleep.

Facsimile Signature of Wm. D. Mitchell NEW YORK.

At 6 months old 5 DROPS 3 times a day.

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPING.

FIELD & SON,

SOLE PROPRIETORS

TRANSFER LINE,

BETWEEN HARTFORD AND BEAVER DAM, HARTFORD, KY.

A FAST AND EASY RIDE IN THE MOST COMFORTABLE VEHICLES. YOUR PATRONAGE SOLICITED.

A BOON TO MANKIND!

DR. TABLER'S BUCKEYE

PILE CURE

DR. TABLER'S BUCKEYE PILE CURE FOR PILES, ITCHING, BLEEDING, PAIN, AND ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE RECTUM.

PRICE 75c.

A New Discovery for the Certain Cure of INTERNAL and EXTERNAL PILES, WITHOUT PAIN.

CURES WHERE ALL OTHERS HAVE FAILED.

TUBES, BY MAIL, 75 CENTS; BOTTLES, 50 CENTS.

JAMES F. BALLARD, Sole Proprietor, 310 North Main Street, ST. LOUIS, MO.

WORMS! WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE!

For 20 Years Has Led All Worm Remedies.

Prepared by JAMES F. BALLARD, St. Louis.

A BUSINESS EDUCATION

The Bryant & Stratton Business College, Louisville, Kentucky.

Seven experienced teachers, each one a specialist in his line. Graduates of this school are prepared for business houses. Write for a circular and learn the best known authors of the world over. It is devoted to Southern readers and Southern writers and is of great value to the Southern people. It is the only one of its kind in the South. It is the only one of its kind in the South. It is the only one of its kind in the South.

THE AMERICAN INVESTMENT COMPANY,

(Incorporated.)

CAPITAL STOCK $25,000.00
RESERVE SURPLUS 125,000.00
AMOUNT PAID UP ON HOLDERS 200,000.00

Address all correspondence to HOME OFFICE, LEXINGTON, KY.

GOOD TERMS TO FIRST CLASS AGENTS.

THE SUNNY SOUTH

Published at Atlanta, Ga.

After a career of more or less activity in the Southern field for over a quarter of a century, The Sunny South has again become a weekly, better and more readable than at any time in its history. It contains serial stories, the best known authors of the world over. It is devoted to Southern readers and Southern writers and is of great value to the Southern people. It is the only one of its kind in the South. It is the only one of its kind in the South. It is the only one of its kind in the South.

THE SUNNY SOUTH, ATLANTA, GA.

Subscription price is only fifty cents a year. No money in advance. The paper is sent to you free of charge. It is the only one of its kind in the South. It is the only one of its kind in the South. It is the only one of its kind in the South.

Hartford Republican.

FRIDAY, JULY 19.

CALLS FOR CONVENTIONS

To Nominate Candidates for Magistrates and Constables in the Various Districts of the County.

HARTFORD MAGISTERIAL DISTRICT.

At a meeting of the Republican Committee of the Hartford Magisterial District, held at Beaver Dam, Ohio county, Kentucky, on June 8, 1901, a majority of said committee being present, the committee was called to order by the chairman and the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, 1st. That a mass convention be held in the Hartford Magisterial District, at Beaver Dam, Ohio county, Ky., on Saturday July 20, 1901, at 2 p. m., for the purpose of nominating candidates to be voted for at the November election 1901, for the office of Justice of the Peace and Constable of said district.

2nd. That the candidates receiving a majority of the votes cast in said convention shall be declared the Republican nominees and have their names placed on the official ballot for the respective offices.

WM. BROWN, Ch'm'n.
R. C. JARNGAN, Sec'y.

ROCKPORT MAGISTERIAL DISTRICT.

At a meeting of the Republican Committee of the Rockport Magisterial District held at the residence of W. H. Wilcox, Ohio county, Ky., on June 10, 1901. A majority of said committee being present, the committee was called to order by the chairman, and the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, 1st. That a mass convention be held in the Rockport Magisterial District at Rockport, Ohio county, Ky., on Saturday July 20, 1901, at 2 p. m., in the Hotel Hall for the purpose of nominating candidates to be voted for at the November election 1901, for the offices of Justice of the Peace and Constable of said district.

2nd. That the candidates receiving a majority of the votes cast in said convention shall be declared the Republican nominees and have their names placed on the official ballot for the respective offices.

WM. HAMILTON, Ch'm'n.
W. H. WILCOX, Sec'y.

FORDSVILLE MAGISTERIAL DISTRICT.

At a meeting of the Republican Committee of the Fordsville Magisterial District, held in Fordsville, Ohio county, Ky., Saturday, June 8, 1901, a majority of the committee being present. The committee was called to order by the chairman and entered into business. The following resolutions were adopted by the committee:

Resolved, 1st. That a mass convention be held at Fordsville, Ohio county, Ky., on Saturday July 20, 1901, at 1 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of nominating candidates to be voted at the next regular election, for the offices of Magistrate and Constable of said district.

2nd. That the men receiving a majority of the votes cast in said convention shall be declared the Republican nominees and have their names entered on the official ballot for the respective offices.

JACOB CHANCELLOR, Ch'm'n.
S. C. MILLER, Sec'y.

SULPHUR SPRINGS MAGISTERIAL DISTRICT.

At a meeting of the Republican Committee of the Sulphur Springs Magisterial District held at Sulphur Springs, Ohio county, Ky., June 12, 1901, it was ordered that a mass convention be held at Narrows, Ky., on the 20th of July, 1901, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Magistrate and Constable to be voted for at the next regular election. All Republicans are requested to attend the convention. The candidates receiving the highest number of votes will be declared the nominees of the Republican party and entitled to have their names entered on the official ballot.

J. B. WALLACE, Ch'm'n.

If young ladies think sores, pimples and red noses look well with a bridal veil and orange bio-soma, it's all right. Yet Rocky Mountain Tia would drive them away. 35c. Ask your druggist.

Lazy Liver

Have been troubled a great deal with a torpid liver, which produced constipation. I found CASCARETS to be all I could get. I purchased another supply and was completely cured. I shall only be too glad to recommend CASCARETS whenever the opportunity is given.

J. J. SMITH
2920 Sunquabana Ave., Philadelphia, Pa.

CANDY CATHARTIC CASCARETS

REGULATE THE LIVER

Pleasant, Palatable, Pure, Taste Good, Do Good. Never distress. Weakens or irritates. No habit forming. Cures constipation. Sold by all druggists. No. 10-BAG. Sold and guaranteed by all druggists to give 100% satisfaction.

STILL DESTROYED.

Was Well Fitted up and had a Capacity of Fifty Gallons Per Day.

Only one Man Was Seen, and he Made a Successful Escape by Fleeing.

Deputy Internal Revenue Agent W. Yates returned Monday from Hardin county, where he successfully captured and destroyed the largest moonshine still that has ever been operated in this district, and possibly within the United States.

Capt. Yates, at his office here, received information from Hardin county late Friday afternoon that a still had been located in that county, and with the officer's usual promptness, by dark he was hurrying toward Big Clifty, the nearest railroad station.

Hour after hour went by, and still the revenue men rode through the moonlit forests, up steep bridge paths and through dark ravines. The country in that section being very broken and rugged, their twenty-mile ride at night was anything but sure.

About 3 o'clock Saturday morning the signal to dismount was given by the guide, and all the officers tied their horses to trees at the mouth of a dark ravine. A consultation was held and Agent Yates directed that his men push forward cautiously on the guide and capture the operators alive, should they be at work. The moon was on a level with the tree tops, and gave but scant light to the officers on their perilous way.

The still was finally sighted, and, with stealthy steps, the men crept up to the "lean-to." The place seemed deserted, and the revenue men made a circuit of the still, which was seen at once to be a very large one. After another consultation it was decided by Capt. Yates to lay in ambush and await the coming of the shiners. Some of the men had secreted themselves in positions that would give them good shots at the outlaws should they make any resistance. Omar Meridith was looking about for a secure hiding place, when he saw what he thought was a large rock, about fifty feet from the still. Moving slowly through the underbrush, he reached the supposed rock, but instead found that it was a huge vat turned up on one side. He stepped on a dry twig as he peered around the side of the great box, and in an instant was almost thrown from his feet by the sudden rush of a man who had been sleeping in the tub.

The deputy dashed about the fugitive crying him to stop or he would be shot, but the man only increased his speed, dodging between the tree trunks, and was quickly lost to sight.

Capt. Yates was informed of the outlaws, and he posted his men in the best positions possible to resist a fierce fight with the moonshiners. The still was the largest ever seen in this part of the country, and Mr. Yates felt sure that the owners would make a desperate fight for their property. After waiting for an hour or more and no one coming near the still, the officers began their work of destruction.

The still had a capacity of over fifty gallons of whiskey a day. Three casks and sixty feet of copper worm and five fermenting tubs, of 1,000 gallons each, were destroyed together with 3,000 gallons of beer and a great quantity of corn meal and other fixtures used in making whiskey.

The operators, whoever they were, had evidently fixed themselves to stay. A good force pump and many other appliances had been rigged up to facilitate the output of illicit whiskey.

Internal Revenue Agent Yates stated that the still was the largest unlicensed still he had ever seen or heard of in any county, and regards the capture as a good day's work. The man who had escaped had made himself comfortable in his maah tub and as he felt rather hurriedly, he neglected to take his watch, containing his clothes, and also a box full of provisions, even down to preserves.

The officers rode back to the railroad station without firing a shot, as they thought the shiners would embarrass them and make things dance to the tune of Winchester rifle bullets—Louisville Commercial.

"If you want some 'just as good' 'I make it myself," remedy, try an imitation Rocky Mountain Tia. 'Twill make you sick and keep you sick. Ask your druggist."

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of

Wm. D. Mitchell

Owes Much to Protection.

"The horn of the South," remarks a Southern paper, "is pouring out wealth at a rate never known before." The Southern people have acquired acquaintance with the truth, so long preached in this land to dull ears, that an agricultural community cannot become a rich community. That truth was the foundation stone in the Protective theory advanced by Alexander Hamilton, and the whole of the century-long struggle between the Protective and Free Trade doctrines was really made upon the question whether this country should supply Europe with raw materials and depend upon Europe for manufactures, or whether it should manufacture its own raw materials and keep both profits. This is the greatest manufacturing nation in the world to-day, because the instincts and the good sense of the American people taught them that the British theory was good for England, but bad for them. The South was slow in learning the lesson because it thought its monopoly of the cotton crop gave to that region special advantages. The Southern people have awakened to the truth that industrial diversity is one of the secrets of prosperity, and that where the factory and the furnace are near to the cotton field and ore bed, the producer of raw material is better off, the manufacturer is better off, and the whole community is advantaged. One way to get rich is to pocket all the profits in sight, and that is the plan South is now trying to pursue. What the fate of the American Protective system is to be cannot be conjectured; but the past is secured. To persistent adherence to that system the nation owes much the larger part of its industrial supremacy.—Philadelphia Textile Record.

Those who live on farms are liable to many accidental cuts, burns and bruises, which heal rapidly when Ballard's Snow Liniment is promptly applied. Price 25c and 50c. J. H. Williams.

A WORTHY SUCCESSOR.

"Something New Under The Sun."

All Doctors have tried to cure Catarrh by the use of powders, salves, inhalers and drugs in paste form. Their powders dry up the mucous membranes causing them to crack open and bleed. The powerful acids used in the inhalers have entirely eaten away the same membranes that their makers have aimed to cure, while pastes and ointments cannot reach the disease. An old and experienced practitioner who has for many years made a close study and specialty of the treatment of Catarrh, has at last perfected a treatment which when faithfully used, not only relieves at once, but permanently cures Catarrh, by removing the cause, stopping the discharge, and curing all inflammation. It is the only remedy known to science that actually reaches the affected parts. This wonderful remedy is known as "Snuffin's" and is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, each package containing internal and external medicine sufficient for a full month's treatment and everything necessary to its perfect use.

"Snuffin's" is the only perfect Cure ever made and is now recognized as the only safe and positive cure for that annoying and disgusting disease. It cures all inflammation quickly and permanently and is also wonderfully quick to relieve Hay Fever or Cold in the Head.

Catarrh when neglected often leads to Consumption. "Snuffin's" will save you if you use it at once. It is no ordinary remedy, but a complete treatment which is positively guaranteed to cure Catarrh in any form or stage if used according to the directions which accompany each package. Don't delay but send for it at once, and write full particulars as to your condition, and you will receive special advice from the discoverer of this wonderful remedy regarding your case without cost to you beyond the regular price of "Snuffin's" the "Guaranteed Catarrh Cure."

Sent prepaid to any address in the United States or Canada on receipt of One Dollar. Address Dept. 1, Edwin B. Giles & Company, 219 and 233 Market street, Philadelphia.

STILL DESTROYED.

Was Well Fitted up and had a Capacity of Fifty Gallons Per Day.

Only one Man Was Seen, and he Made a Successful Escape by Fleeing.

Deputy Internal Revenue Agent W. Yates returned Monday from Hardin county, where he successfully captured and destroyed the largest moonshine still that has ever been operated in this district, and possibly within the United States.

Capt. Yates, at his office here, received information from Hardin county late Friday afternoon that a still had been located in that county, and with the officer's usual promptness, by dark he was hurrying toward Big Clifty, the nearest railroad station.

Hour after hour went by, and still the revenue men rode through the moonlit forests, up steep bridge paths and through dark ravines. The country in that section being very broken and rugged, their twenty-mile ride at night was anything but sure.

About 3 o'clock Saturday morning the signal to dismount was given by the guide, and all the officers tied their horses to trees at the mouth of a dark ravine. A consultation was held and Agent Yates directed that his men push forward cautiously on the guide and capture the operators alive, should they be at work. The moon was on a level with the tree tops, and gave but scant light to the officers on their perilous way.

The still was finally sighted, and, with stealthy steps, the men crept up to the "lean-to." The place seemed deserted, and the revenue men made a circuit of the still, which was seen at once to be a very large one. After another consultation it was decided by Capt. Yates to lay in ambush and await the coming of the shiners. Some of the men had secreted themselves in positions that would give them good shots at the outlaws should they make any resistance. Omar Meridith was looking about for a secure hiding place, when he saw what he thought was a large rock, about fifty feet from the still. Moving slowly through the underbrush, he reached the supposed rock, but instead found that it was a huge vat turned up on one side. He stepped on a dry twig as he peered around the side of the great box, and in an instant was almost thrown from his feet by the sudden rush of a man who had been sleeping in the tub.

The deputy dashed about the fugitive crying him to stop or he would be shot, but the man only increased his speed, dodging between the tree trunks, and was quickly lost to sight.

Capt. Yates was informed of the outlaws, and he posted his men in the best positions possible to resist a fierce fight with the moonshiners. The still was the largest ever seen in this part of the country, and Mr. Yates felt sure that the owners would make a desperate fight for their property. After waiting for an hour or more and no one coming near the still, the officers began their work of destruction.

The still had a capacity of over fifty gallons of whiskey a day. Three casks and sixty feet of copper worm and five fermenting tubs, of 1,000 gallons each, were destroyed together with 3,000 gallons of beer and a great quantity of corn meal and other fixtures used in making whiskey.

The operators, whoever they were, had evidently fixed themselves to stay. A good force pump and many other appliances had been rigged up to facilitate the output of illicit whiskey.

Internal Revenue Agent Yates stated that the still was the largest unlicensed still he had ever seen or heard of in any county, and regards the capture as a good day's work. The man who had escaped had made himself comfortable in his maah tub and as he felt rather hurriedly, he neglected to take his watch, containing his clothes, and also a box full of provisions, even down to preserves.

The officers rode back to the railroad station without firing a shot, as they thought the shiners would embarrass them and make things dance to the tune of Winchester rifle bullets—Louisville Commercial.

"If you want some 'just as good' 'I make it myself,' remedy, try an imitation Rocky Mountain Tia. 'Twill make you sick and keep you sick. Ask your druggist."

STILL DESTROYED.

Was Well Fitted up and had a Capacity of Fifty Gallons Per Day.

Only one Man Was Seen, and he Made a Successful Escape by Fleeing.

Deputy Internal Revenue Agent W. Yates returned Monday from Hardin county, where he successfully captured and destroyed the largest moonshine still that has ever been operated in this district, and possibly within the United States.

Capt. Yates, at his office here, received information from Hardin county late Friday afternoon that a still had been located in that county, and with the officer's usual promptness, by dark he was hurrying toward Big Clifty, the nearest railroad station.

Hour after hour went by, and still the revenue men rode through the moonlit forests, up steep bridge paths and through dark ravines. The country in that section being very broken and rugged, their twenty-mile ride at night was anything but sure.

About 3 o'clock Saturday morning the signal to dismount was given by the guide, and all the officers tied their horses to trees at the mouth of a dark ravine. A consultation was held and Agent Yates directed that his men push forward cautiously on the guide and capture the operators alive, should they be at work. The moon was on a level with the tree tops, and gave but scant light to the officers on their perilous way.

The still was finally sighted, and, with stealthy steps, the men crept up to the "lean-to." The place seemed deserted, and the revenue men made a circuit of the still, which was seen at once to be a very large one. After another consultation it was decided by Capt. Yates to lay in ambush and await the coming of the shiners. Some of the men had secreted themselves in positions that would give them good shots at the outlaws should they make any resistance. Omar Meridith was looking about for a secure hiding place, when he saw what he thought was a large rock, about fifty feet from the still. Moving slowly through the underbrush, he reached the supposed rock, but instead found that it was a huge vat turned up on one side. He stepped on a dry twig as he peered around the side of the great box, and in an instant was almost thrown from his feet by the sudden rush of a man who had been sleeping in the tub.

The deputy dashed about the fugitive crying him to stop or he would be shot, but the man only increased his speed, dodging between the tree trunks, and was quickly lost to sight.

Capt. Yates was informed of the outlaws, and he posted his men in the best positions possible to resist a fierce fight with the moonshiners. The still was the largest ever seen in this part of the country, and Mr. Yates felt sure that the owners would make a desperate fight for their property. After waiting for an hour or more and no one coming near the still, the officers began their work of destruction.

The still had a capacity of over fifty gallons of whiskey a day. Three casks and sixty feet of copper worm and five fermenting tubs, of 1,000 gallons each, were destroyed together with 3,000 gallons of beer and a great quantity of corn meal and other fixtures used in making whiskey.

The operators, whoever they were, had evidently fixed themselves to stay. A good force pump and many other appliances had been rigged up to facilitate the output of illicit whiskey.

Internal Revenue Agent Yates stated that the still was the largest unlicensed still he had ever seen or heard of in any county, and regards the capture as a good day's work. The man who had escaped had made himself comfortable in his maah tub and as he felt rather hurriedly, he neglected to take his watch, containing his clothes, and also a box full of provisions, even down to preserves.

The officers rode back to the railroad station without firing a shot, as they thought the shiners would embarrass them and make things dance to the tune of Winchester rifle bullets—Louisville Commercial.

"If you want some 'just as good' 'I make it myself,' remedy, try an imitation Rocky Mountain Tia. 'Twill make you sick and keep you sick. Ask your druggist."

STILL DESTROYED.

Was Well Fitted up and had a Capacity of Fifty Gallons Per Day.

Only one Man Was Seen, and he Made a Successful Escape by Fleeing.

Deputy Internal Revenue Agent W. Yates returned Monday from Hardin county, where he successfully captured and destroyed the largest moonshine still that has ever been operated in this district, and possibly within the United States.

Capt. Yates, at his office here, received information from Hardin county late Friday afternoon that a still had been located in that county, and with the officer's usual promptness, by dark he was hurrying toward Big Clifty, the nearest railroad station.

Hour after hour went by, and still the revenue men rode through the moonlit forests, up steep bridge paths and through dark ravines. The country in that section being very broken and rugged, their twenty-mile ride at night was anything but sure.

About 3 o'clock Saturday morning the signal to dismount was given by the guide, and all the officers tied their horses to trees at the mouth of a dark ravine. A consultation was held and Agent Yates directed that his men push forward cautiously on the guide and capture the operators alive, should they be at work. The moon was on a level with the tree tops, and gave but scant light to the officers on their perilous way.

The still was finally sighted, and, with stealthy steps, the men crept up to the "lean-to." The place seemed deserted, and the revenue men made a circuit of the still, which was seen at once to be a very large one. After another consultation it was decided by Capt. Yates to lay in ambush and await the coming of the shiners. Some of the men had secreted themselves in positions that would give them good shots at the outlaws should they make any resistance. Omar Meridith was looking about for a secure hiding place, when he saw what he thought was a large rock, about fifty feet from the still. Moving slowly through the underbrush, he reached the supposed rock, but instead found that it was a huge vat turned up on one side. He stepped on a dry twig as he peered around the side of the great box, and in an instant was almost thrown from his feet by the sudden rush of a man who had been sleeping in the tub.

The deputy dashed about the fugitive crying him to stop or he would be shot, but the man only increased his speed, dodging between the tree trunks, and was quickly lost to sight.

Capt. Yates was informed of the outlaws, and he posted his men in the best positions possible to resist a fierce fight with the moonshiners. The still was the largest ever seen in this part of the country, and Mr. Yates felt sure that the owners would make a desperate fight for their property. After waiting for an hour or more and no one coming near the still, the officers began their work of destruction.

The still had a capacity of over fifty gallons of whiskey a day. Three casks and sixty feet of copper worm and five fermenting tubs, of 1,000 gallons each, were destroyed together with 3,000 gallons of beer and a great quantity of corn meal and other fixtures used in making whiskey.

The operators, whoever they were, had evidently fixed themselves to stay. A good force pump and many other appliances had been rigged up to facilitate the output of illicit whiskey.

Internal Revenue Agent Yates stated that the still was the largest unlicensed still he had ever seen or heard of in any county, and regards the capture as a good day's work. The man who had escaped had made himself comfortable in his maah tub and as he felt rather hurriedly, he neglected to take his watch, containing his clothes, and also a box full of provisions, even down to preserves.

The officers rode back to the railroad station without firing a shot, as they thought the shiners would embarrass them and make things dance to the tune of Winchester rifle bullets—Louisville Commercial.

"If you want some 'just as good' 'I make it myself,' remedy, try an imitation Rocky Mountain Tia. 'Twill make you sick and keep you sick. Ask your druggist."

STILL DESTROYED.

Was Well Fitted up and had a Capacity of Fifty Gallons Per Day.

Only one Man Was Seen, and he Made a Successful Escape by Fleeing.

Deputy Internal Revenue Agent W. Yates returned Monday from Hardin county, where he successfully captured and destroyed the largest moonshine still that has ever been operated in this district, and possibly within the United States.

Capt. Yates, at his office here, received information from Hardin county late Friday afternoon that a still had been located in that county, and with the officer's usual promptness, by dark he was hurrying toward Big Clifty, the nearest railroad station.

Hour after hour went by, and still the revenue men rode through the moonlit forests, up steep bridge paths and through dark ravines. The country in that section being very broken and rugged, their twenty-mile ride at night was anything but sure.

About 3 o'clock Saturday morning the signal to dismount was given by the guide, and all the officers tied their horses to trees at the mouth of a dark ravine. A consultation was held and Agent Yates directed that his men push forward cautiously on the guide and capture the operators alive, should they be at work. The moon was on a level with the tree tops, and gave but scant light to the officers on their perilous way.

The still was finally sighted, and, with stealthy steps, the men crept up to the "lean-to." The place seemed deserted, and the revenue men made a circuit of the still, which was seen at once to be a very large one. After another consultation it was decided by Capt. Yates to lay in ambush and await the coming of the shiners. Some of the men had secreted themselves in positions that would give them good shots at the outlaws should they make any resistance. Omar Meridith was looking about for a secure hiding place, when he saw what he thought was a large rock, about fifty feet from the still. Moving slowly through the underbrush, he reached the supposed rock, but instead found that it was a huge vat turned up on one side. He stepped on a dry twig as he peered around the side of the great box, and in an instant was almost thrown from his feet by the sudden rush of a man who had been sleeping in the tub.

The deputy dashed about the fugitive crying him to stop or he would be shot, but the man only increased his speed, dodging between the tree trunks, and was quickly lost to sight.

Capt. Yates was informed of the outlaws, and he posted his men in the best positions possible to resist a fierce fight with the moonshiners. The still was the largest ever seen in this part of the country, and Mr. Yates felt sure that the owners would make a desperate fight for their property. After waiting for an hour or more and no one coming near the still, the officers began their work of destruction.

The still had a capacity of over fifty gallons of whiskey a day. Three casks and sixty feet of copper worm and five fermenting tubs, of 1,000 gallons each, were destroyed together with 3,000 gallons of beer and a great quantity of corn meal and other fixtures used in making whiskey.

The operators, whoever they were, had evidently fixed themselves to stay. A good force pump and many other appliances had been rigged up to facilitate the output of illicit whiskey.

Internal Revenue Agent Yates stated that the still was the largest unlicensed still he had ever seen or heard of in any county, and regards the capture as a good day's work. The man who had escaped had made himself comfortable in his maah tub and as he felt rather hurriedly, he neglected to take his watch, containing his clothes, and also a box full of provisions, even down to preserves.

The officers rode back to the railroad station without firing a shot, as they thought the shiners would embarrass them and make things dance to the tune of Winchester rifle bullets—Louisville Commercial.

"If you want some 'just as good' 'I make it myself,' remedy, try an imitation Rocky Mountain Tia. 'Twill make you sick and keep you sick. Ask your druggist."

STILL DESTROYED.

Was Well Fitted up and had a Capacity of Fifty Gallons Per Day.

Only one Man Was Seen, and he Made a Successful Escape by Fleeing.

Deputy Internal Revenue Agent W. Yates returned Monday from Hardin county, where he successfully captured and destroyed the largest moonshine still that has ever been operated in this district, and possibly within the United States.

Capt. Yates, at his office here, received information from Hardin county late Friday afternoon that a still had been located in that county, and with the officer's usual promptness, by dark he was hurrying toward Big Clifty, the nearest railroad station.

Hour after hour went by, and still the revenue men rode through the moonlit forests, up steep bridge paths and through dark ravines. The country in that section being very broken and rugged, their twenty-mile ride at night was anything but sure.

About 3 o'clock Saturday morning the signal to dismount was given by the guide, and all the officers tied their horses to trees at the mouth of a dark ravine. A consultation was held and Agent Yates directed that his men push forward cautiously on the guide and capture the operators alive, should they be at work. The moon was on a level with the tree tops, and gave but scant light to the officers on their perilous way.

The still was finally sighted, and, with stealthy steps, the men crept up to the "lean-to." The place seemed deserted, and the revenue men made a circuit of the still, which was seen at once to be a very large one. After another consultation it was decided by Capt. Yates to lay in ambush and await the coming of the shiners. Some of the men had secreted themselves in positions that would give them good shots at the outlaws should they make any resistance. Omar Meridith was looking about for a secure hiding place, when he saw what he thought was a large rock, about fifty feet from the still. Moving slowly through the underbrush, he reached the supposed rock, but instead found that it was a huge vat turned up on one side. He stepped on a dry twig as he peered around the side of the great box, and in an instant was almost thrown from his feet by the sudden rush of a man who had been sleeping in the tub.

The deputy dashed about the fugitive crying him to stop or he would be shot, but the man only increased his speed, dodging between the tree trunks, and was quickly lost to sight.

Capt. Yates was informed of the outlaws, and he posted his men in the best positions possible to resist a fierce fight with the moonshiners. The still was the largest ever seen in this part of the country, and Mr. Yates felt sure that the owners would make a desperate fight for their property. After waiting for an hour or more and no one coming near the still, the officers began their work of destruction.

The still had a capacity of over fifty gallons of whiskey a day. Three casks and sixty feet of copper worm and five fermenting tubs, of 1,000 gallons each, were destroyed together with 3,000 gallons of beer and a great quantity of corn meal and other fixtures used in making whiskey.

The operators, whoever they were, had evidently fixed themselves to stay. A good force pump and many other appliances had been rigged up to facilitate the output of illicit whiskey.

Internal Revenue Agent Yates stated that the still was the largest unlicensed still he had ever seen or heard of in any county, and regards the capture as a good day's work. The man who had escaped had made himself comfortable in his maah tub and as he felt rather hurriedly, he neglected to take his watch, containing his clothes, and also a box full of provisions, even down to preserves.

The officers rode back to the railroad station without firing a shot, as they thought the shiners would embarrass them and make things dance to the tune of Winchester rifle bullets—Louisville Commercial.

"If you want some 'just as good' 'I make it myself,' remedy, try an imitation Rocky Mountain Tia. 'Twill make you sick and keep you sick. Ask your druggist."

STILL DESTROYED.

Was Well Fitted up and had a Capacity of Fifty Gallons Per Day.

Only one Man Was Seen, and he Made a Successful Escape by Fleeing.

Deputy Internal Revenue Agent W. Yates returned Monday from Hardin county, where he successfully captured and destroyed the largest moonshine still that has ever been operated in this district, and possibly within the United States.

Capt. Yates, at his office here, received information from Hardin county late Friday afternoon that a still had been located in that county, and with the officer's usual promptness, by dark he was hurrying toward Big Clifty, the nearest railroad station.

Hour after hour went by, and still the revenue men rode through the moonlit forests, up steep bridge paths and through dark ravines. The country in that section being very broken and rugged, their twenty-mile ride at night was anything but sure.

About 3 o'clock Saturday morning the signal to dismount was given by the guide, and all the officers tied their horses to trees at the mouth of a dark ravine. A consultation was held and Agent Yates directed that his men push forward cautiously on the guide and capture the operators alive, should they be at work. The moon was on a level with the tree tops, and gave but scant light to the officers on their perilous way.

The still was finally sighted, and, with stealthy steps, the men crept up to the "lean-to." The place seemed deserted, and the revenue men made a circuit of the still, which was seen at once to be a very large one. After another consultation it was decided by Capt. Yates to lay in ambush and await the coming of the shiners. Some of the men had secreted themselves in positions that would give them good shots at the outlaws should they make any resistance. Omar Meridith was looking about for a secure hiding place, when he saw what he thought was a large rock, about fifty feet from the still. Moving slowly through the underbrush, he reached the supposed rock, but instead found that it was a huge vat turned up on one side. He stepped on a dry twig as he peered around the side of the great box, and in an instant was almost thrown from his feet by the sudden rush of a man who had been sleeping in the tub.

The deputy dashed about the fugitive crying him to stop or he would be shot, but the man only increased his speed, dodging between the tree trunks, and was quickly lost to sight.

Capt. Yates was informed of the outlaws, and he posted his men in the best positions possible to resist a fierce fight with the moonshiners. The still was the largest ever seen in this part of the country, and Mr. Yates felt sure that the owners would make a desperate fight for their property. After waiting for an hour or more and no one coming near the still, the officers began their work of destruction.

The still had a capacity of over fifty gallons of whiskey a day. Three casks and sixty feet of copper worm and five fermenting tubs, of 1,000 gallons each, were destroyed together with 3,000 gallons of beer and a great quantity of corn meal and other fixtures used in making whiskey.

The operators, whoever they were, had evidently fixed themselves to stay. A good force pump and many other appliances had been rigged up to facilitate the output of illicit whiskey.

Internal Revenue Agent Yates stated that the still was the largest unlicensed still he had ever seen or heard of in any county, and regards the capture as a good day's work. The man who had escaped had made himself comfortable in his maah tub and as he felt rather hurriedly, he neglected to take his watch, containing his clothes, and also a box full of provisions, even down to preserves.

The officers rode back to the railroad station without firing a shot, as they thought the shiners would embarrass them and make things dance to the tune of Winchester rifle bullets—Louisville Commercial.

"If you want some 'just as good' 'I make it myself,' remedy, try an imitation Rocky Mountain Tia. 'Twill make you sick and keep you sick. Ask your druggist."

STILL DESTROYED.

Was Well Fitted up and had a Capacity of Fifty Gallons Per Day.

Only one Man Was Seen, and he Made a Successful Escape by Fleeing.

Deputy Internal Revenue Agent W. Yates returned Monday from Hardin county, where he successfully captured and destroyed the largest moonshine still that has ever been operated in this district, and possibly within the United States.

Capt. Yates, at his office here, received information from Hardin county late Friday afternoon that a still had been located in that county, and with the officer's usual promptness, by dark he was hurrying toward Big Clifty, the nearest railroad station.

Hour after hour went by, and still the revenue men rode through the moonlit forests, up steep bridge paths and through dark ravines. The country in that section being very broken and rugged, their twenty-mile ride at night was anything but sure.

About 3 o'clock Saturday morning the signal to dismount was given by the guide, and all the officers tied their horses to trees at the mouth of a dark ravine. A consultation was held and Agent Yates directed that his men push forward cautiously on the guide and capture the operators alive, should they be at work. The moon was on a level with the tree tops, and gave but scant light to the officers on their perilous way.

The still was finally sighted, and, with stealthy steps, the men crept up to the "lean-to." The place seemed deserted, and the revenue men made a circuit of the still, which was seen at once to be a very large one. After another consultation it was decided by Capt. Yates to lay in ambush and await the coming of the shiners. Some of the men had secreted themselves in positions that would give them good shots at the outlaws should they make any resistance. Omar Meridith was looking about for a secure hiding place, when he saw what he thought was a large rock, about fifty feet from the still. Moving slowly through the underbrush, he reached the supposed rock, but instead found that it was a huge vat turned up on one side. He stepped on a dry twig as he peered around the side of the great box, and in an instant was almost thrown from his feet by the sudden rush of a man who had been sleeping in the tub.

The deputy dashed about the fugitive crying him to stop or he would be shot, but the man only increased his speed, dodging between the tree trunks, and was quickly lost to sight.

Capt. Yates was informed of the outlaws, and he posted his men in the best positions possible to resist a fierce fight with the moonshiners. The still was the largest ever seen in this part of the country, and Mr. Yates felt sure that the owners would make a desperate fight for their property. After waiting for an hour or more and no one coming near the still, the officers began their work of destruction.

The still had a capacity of over fifty gallons of whiskey a day. Three casks and sixty feet of copper worm and five fermenting tubs, of 1,000 gallons each, were destroyed together with 3,000 gallons of beer and a great quantity of corn meal and other fixtures used in making whiskey.

The operators, whoever they were, had evidently fixed themselves to stay. A good force pump and many other appliances had been rigged up to facilitate the output of illicit whiskey.

Internal Revenue Agent Yates stated that the still was the largest unlicensed still he had ever seen or heard of in any county, and regards the capture as a good day's work. The man who had escaped had made himself comfortable in his maah tub and as he felt rather hurriedly, he neglected to take his watch, containing his clothes, and also a box full of provisions, even down to preserves.

The officers rode back to the railroad station without firing a shot, as they thought the shiners would embarrass them and make things dance to the tune of Winchester rifle bullets—Louisville Commercial.

"If you want some 'just as good' 'I make it myself,' remedy, try an imitation Rocky Mountain Tia. 'Twill make you sick and keep you sick. Ask your druggist."

STILL DESTROYED.

Was Well Fitted up and had a Capacity of Fifty Gallons Per Day.

Only one Man Was Seen, and he Made a Successful Escape by Fleeing.

Deputy Internal Revenue Agent W. Yates returned Monday from Hardin county, where he successfully captured and destroyed the largest moonshine still that has ever been operated in this district, and possibly within the United States.

Capt. Yates, at his office here, received information from Hardin county late Friday afternoon that a still had been located in that county, and with the officer's usual promptness, by dark he was hurrying toward Big Clifty, the nearest railroad station.

Hour after hour went by, and still the revenue men rode through the moonlit forests, up steep bridge paths and through dark ravines. The country in that section being very broken and rugged, their twenty-mile ride at night was anything but sure.

About 3 o'clock Saturday morning the signal to dismount was given by the guide, and all the officers tied their horses to trees at the mouth of a dark ravine. A consultation was held and Agent Yates directed that his men push forward cautiously on the guide and capture the operators alive, should they be at work. The moon was on a level with the tree tops, and gave but scant light to the officers on their perilous way.

The still was finally sighted, and, with stealthy steps, the men crept up to the "lean-to." The place seemed deserted, and the revenue men made a circuit of the still, which was seen at once to be a very large one. After another consultation it was decided by Capt. Yates to lay in ambush and await the coming of the shiners. Some of the men had secreted themselves in positions that would give them good shots at the outlaws should they make any resistance. Omar Meridith was looking about for a secure hiding place, when he saw what he thought was a large rock, about fifty feet from the still. Moving slowly through the underbrush, he reached the supposed rock, but instead found that it was a huge vat turned up on one side. He stepped on a dry twig as he peered around the side of the great box, and in an instant was almost thrown from his feet by the sudden rush of a man who had been sleeping in the tub.

The deputy dashed about the fugitive crying him to stop or he would be shot, but the man only increased his speed, dodging between the tree trunks, and was quickly lost to sight.

Capt. Yates was informed of the outlaws, and he posted his men in the best positions possible to resist a fierce fight with the moonshiners. The still was the largest ever seen in this part of the country, and Mr. Yates felt sure that the owners would make a desperate fight for their property. After waiting for an hour or more and no one coming near the still, the officers began their work of destruction.

The still had a capacity of over fifty gallons of whiskey a day. Three casks and sixty feet of copper worm and five fermenting tubs, of 1,000 gallons each, were destroyed together with 3,000 gallons of beer and a great quantity of corn meal and other fixtures used in making whiskey.

The operators, whoever they were, had evidently fixed themselves to stay. A good force pump and many other appliances had been rigged up to facilitate the output of illicit whiskey.

Internal Revenue Agent Yates stated that the still was the largest unlicensed still he had ever seen or heard of in any county, and regards the capture as a good day's work. The man who had escaped had made himself comfortable in his maah tub and as he felt rather hurriedly, he neglected to take his watch, containing his clothes, and also a box